

Mary B. Gorman, MD, an Anesthesiologist with Mercy Medical Center

Get to know Anesthesiologist Dr. Mary B. Gorman, who serves patients in Baltimore, Maryland.

New York City, Oct 9, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Being a well-versed anesthesiologist, Dr. Gorman ensures the safety of patients who are about to undergo surgery. She works at Mercy Medical Center in Baltimore, Maryland where she holds emeritus status.

Mercy Medical Center is a 142-year-old, university affiliated medical facility named one of the top 100 hospitals in the nation and among 10 best centers for women's health care. "Like the Sisters of Mercy before us, we witness God's healing love for all people by providing excellent clinical and residential services within a community of compassionate care" according to its mission statement.

Throughout her academic career, Dr. Gorman graduated with her medical degree from SUNY Downstate College of Medicine in 1978. She then went on to perform her internship and residency in anesthesiology at George Washington University Hospital.

As a testament to her success, she is board-certified in anesthesiology by the American Board of Anesthesiology (ABA), whose mission is to advance the highest standards of the practice of anesthesiology. As the certifying body for anesthesiologists since 1938, the ABA is committed to partnering with physicians to advance the lifelong learning and exceptional patient care.

Anesthesiology is the medical specialty concerned with the total perioperative care of patients before, during, and after surgery. It encompasses anesthesia, intensive care medicine, critical emergency medicine, and pain medicine. Anesthesiologists have the primary responsibility of monitoring the patient's vital signs during surgery. In addition to basic measurements such as pulse, blood pressure, and temperature, they measure the patient's respiration.
