

Francesca Pinto is the actress, model, and entrepreneur next up

Francesca Pinto has modeled with Gigi Hadid, Kendall Jenner, Bella Hadid and met people like Ray Diaz, Cameron Dallas, and A-Boogie Wit Da Hoodie. Here's why she's the next biggest thing.

New York City, Nov 22, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Buzzing Francesca Pinto is the model, actress, influencer, blogger, and entrepreneur next up. Francesca was in a fashion show where she was backstage with celebrities and supermodels like Gigi Hadid, Bella Hadid, Kendall Jenner, Taylor Hill, and more. She has already met a lot of famous singers from her mom's agency La Creme Modeling & Acting's music video bookings. Some of the celebrities she has met include A-Boogie Wit Da Hoodie, Ray Diaz, Cameron Dallas, Florentino Perez, Maluma, among many others.

Francesca says her plans for the future are to pursue modeling, acting, and social media. She already has a good following and hopes to grow it in the coming months and years. She has big plans for the year of 2021, some being that she wants to travel more once COVID-19 ends. She also said she wants to do music and post more videos for her fans. She has already made a music video for her diss track song she made a few years ago and it went well but she decided to focus on modeling and acting instead of music for the time being.

Los Angeles is her city of choice and she plans on moving there in a few years because she believes there will be more opportunities there for her and her career. Francesca Pinto is constantly improving and we look forward to seeing what she brings in the future and in 2021. We are excited and will continue to update as she releases more information about the coming days.
