

Young Artist Jonah Kemp Keeps R&B Alive

Flint, Nov 4, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Flint, Michigan should be proud of their young R&B artist, Jonah Kemp. This young man has been singing since he was five years old. His single "Can We Talk" reminds us of some of the great male vocalists who made women scream and men envy their ability to draw women to their feet.

Jonah Kemp is such a fun loving and humble young man, who probably doesn't even realize how big his fan base is becoming. His smooth voice and infectious smile gives you a total visual and listening experience. Today's young R&B lovers should really get to know the new up and coming singers. This new generation of fans need to know the future of R&B doesn't just rely on a few of the hottest like, Jacquees, Chris Brown, Mario and Bryson Tiller. Jonah Kemp is predicted to be next up. Singer and song writer, Neyo gave young Jonah Kemp some words of wisdom and recognized the singer's talent.

Jonah Kemp has also become a social media Influencer. His Tik Tok videos and skits have become very popular. His fans get a chance to see the singer's acting ability and fun side. When R&B lovers download Jonah Kemp's single "Can We Talk" they will understand why he is here to stay.
