

ASTOS Watches Launches their New Collection of Protective Eyewear

Almere, Dec 4, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - ASTOS Watches launched their new collection of blue light shades, stylish and luxurious designer sunglasses with screen light exceptional protection. Joey Bravo, the Youtuber, influencer, entrepreneur and musician, known for hit shows like Boxing Influencers is the founder of ASTOS Watches who is revolutionizing the scope of eyewear with his new line.

Prolonged exposure to artificial light from using our phones, computers, tablets, etc. is causing a long list of health issues such as eye strain, sleeping inconsistencies and insomnia, headaches and migraines, lack of energy and physical fatigue, and more. It is the blue light frequencies that have been linked to these issues, but luckily there is a way to protect yourself by using blue light blocking eyewear. Up until now, screen glasses have mostly had a boring design as they are made for medical purposes strictly. The entrepreneurs and designers behind the highly successful ASTOS Watches, have set out to change the stereotype of screen glasses as being nerdy. Their new collection of blue light shades unites stylish and luxurious designer sunglasses with screen light exceptional protection with their line of ASTOS eyewear.

Joey Bravo, the founder of ASTOS Watches has seen a growing emergence of issues owing to more and more people spending hours on their electronic devices. With his brand, he could help them stay healthy, productive, focused, and successful no matter how long they spend behind the screens. ASTOS Watches are endorsed by many athletes, musicians, entrepreneurs, and internet celebrities. ASTOS protective shades are becoming popular among successful individuals wanting to protect their eyes and minds. Especially for someone making a living of maintaining a strong image while relying on the internet and social media, ASTOS eyewear is the perfect solution.

Each pair of shades are luxurious designer eyewear made to protect your eyes from blue light rather than UV rays. They can be worn indoors and outdoors, during day or night, and you will always look stylish and put together wearing them. Like ASTOS timepieces, each pair of glasses is crafted from the highest level of materials. From scratch-resistant lenses to ultra-durable frames, they will take the beating from even the most high-powered lifestyle. They represent luxury at an affordable price. By selling direct to consumers, ASTOS keeps control of its production chain and offers exceptional craftsmanship and design at an even more exceptional price.

Founder, Joey Bravo, is reporting that the brand will not sacrifice quality or craftsmanship to put more glasses on the market. So customers may experience the eyewear selling out fast too.
