Pittsburgh, Dec 15, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - The Credit Connection has added some revolutionary new financial programs into their unique funding system the Business Finance Suite.

The finance suite is the most comprehensive financial solution available today. Through this groundbreaking system business owners can insure their business is setup to meet lending credibility standards.

Businesses can then gain access to more financial programs and sources than are available anywhere else. Every legitimate business financial options available today is also available through the financial suite. This opens the doors for businesses to obtain access to cash funding even if they have challenged personal credit or are just starting a new business.

“What has just been added to our finance suite is mind-blowing,” says Daniel Massimino from The Credit Connection. “We have recently had some of our private investors really step up and provide clients access to exclusive financing programs that just aren’t available anywhere else,” says Daniel Massimino.

The finance suite has always provided access to standard conventional bank programs such as SBA 7 and 504 loans. The suite has also given business owners access to programs which aren’t available at most conventional banks including account receivable and purchase order financing, inventory and equipment financing, even equipment leasing and equipment sale lease-back funding options.

Plus the financial suite provides business owner access to many programs which they can be approved for, even if they have challenged credit. Some of these programs include 401k financing, securities based lines of credit, revenue financing, even merchant advances.

“And if a client does have good personal credit, this opens the door for them to qualify for even more unsecured financing options where they can get money even as a startup business or if they can’t supply financials,” says Daniel Massimino.

Of all the financing the finance suite has, these new funding programs make it even easier for business owners to secure funding. A few of the newly added programs include a solution for auto dealers known as Floor Plan Financing.

This allows dealers to use their existing floor plan of automobiles as collateral to secure funding. Plus the new visa funding program helps E-2 and EB-5 visa applicants qualify for credit lines, which is a requirement for applicants of those programs to qualify.

“Plus we just added a brand new $250,000 working-capital credit line that is perfect for an average business owner that wants a high-limit credit line but might not have a lot of collateral or many years of financials”, says Daniel Massimino.

This new credit line is one of the highest-limit credit lines of its kind, and unlike other conventional bank credit lines, a business owner can be approved in less than 30 days and get approved with limited income requirements.

Through the finance suite, The Credit Connection also helps business owners get approved for business credit. This helps the business owner build credit for the business, without the owner having to personally guarantee the debts. “Business credit allows the business to qualify for its own credit where the business owner isn’t liable for their business debts,” says Daniel Massimino.

Plus business credit can be obtained for the business with no personal credit check required from the business owner. This makes it a perfect solution for business owners with less than stellar credit. Through the finance suite businesses can obtain credit at places like Staples, Wal-Mart, Dell, Amazon.com, Target, Best Buy, Auto Zone, Spring, BP, Lowes, and more. And business owners can obtain Visa, MasterCard, American Express, and even Discover cards for their business that can be used in most retail stores.

“The finance suite has revolutionized the lending industry,” says Daniel Massimino. “Now with these newly added financial products, we can help even more business owners obtain the capital they need to grow the business of their dreams”.
