

Xavier Johnson : The Music Industries Underground Talent

Birmingham, Dec 13, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Xavier Johnson better known as Zae is an aspiring music sensation from Birmingham, Alabama. He has been creating music since 2018. Within the years he has created a total of 3 completed projects, the most recent release being PlanetX2. Music has not always been the center focus of Xaviers. He started out his career as a writer and has published a few books online. He is a great creator.

Music is now his main focus at the moment. He is working on several singles and an official album for this coming year. His consistency really sets him apart from most. He is organized and eager to release content for his listeners and supporters. His attitude towards creating is quite poised and professional. He states “ You never know what works until you try it. Don’t be afraid to show growth in your sound and hear the evolution from your previous songs.”

that is quite mature of him to say as a young artist. His whole musical perspective is actually very refreshing. You will not be disappointed when streaming his content. He creates magic from the studio and channels it in all of his music. His song “Spiffy” is his most streamed song to date. You can check out his current releases now on all musical platforms. Make sure you show your support and keep up with his journey within the music industry.
