

Eastern Suburbs Locksmith Reviews New ML20 Restricted Key System for MLAA

Key Solution Locksmiths is committed to providing a wide range of locksmith services to their customers to keep them secure in the post-pandemic situation.

Sydney, Jan 1, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Key Solution Locksmiths, a Sydney based full-service locksmith company provides multiple locksmith services including the ML20 Restricted Key System in order to meet the various needs of their customers.

The ML20 is the latest restricted multi-profile key system for the Master Locksmith Association of Australia. It has been locally designed in Australia by SG Lock & Security. The unique design and features give the ML20 increased physical security. All ML20 keys are made from Nickel Silver that provides superior strength according to manufacturers, SGLock.

Special attention has been given to the clamping area. They have a flat contact point ensuring the key clamps correctly and with ease. This ensures that each key can be cut consistently.

ML20 barrels are meticulously machined to the highest tolerances. As a result, barrels, and keys work together effortlessly. All ML20 barrels are designed to be extremely difficult to pick by standard methods.

“I love ML20. It has an amazing pick resistance and this in conjunction with the hardened drill pins, makes ML20 a high-security, in-line restricted system. Moreover, the design is restricted until 2030. All these factors give me confidence that my customers are getting full value for money when using this product.” said Danny Frawley, the owner of Key Solution Locksmiths, an Eastern Suburbs locksmith with 25+ years’ experience. Danny’s experience and professionalism meant SGLocks used his review of their ML20 restricted system for their October newsletter.

Danny is a fully licensed and insured locksmith. Over his 25+ year career, Danny has also worked at Benson’s Locksmiths and Kingsford Locksmiths and is conversant with all types of residential and commercial locksmith services for safety and security.

As an Eastern Suburbs locksmith based in Maroubra, they provide a wide range of services to the Sydney region. They are also available 24 hours a day for emergency auto locksmith services.
