

Meet Entrepreneur Arad Ghodrati from United States

Making waves in the Digital Marketing world with TechoMarket

Atlanta, Jan 3, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Arad Ghodrati is the founder, CEO, CTO, chief designer, and early investor of TechoMarket LLC \(TM\), a worldwide digital marketing company. He was born in Shiraz, Iran on December 19th, 1995, and moved to the United States in 2012. After moving to Atlanta, Georgia, Ghodrati founded TM, and he is now one of the most prominent digital marketing consultants in the Southeastern region of the United States. Continuing to expand his skills in the technological world, he is known for overseeing the growth of many existing and new companies, as well as his exceptional position in the international field of business. Arad graduated from the University of Georgia \(UGA\), the United States with a bachelor's degree specializing in computer science and has over a decade of programming and marketing experience, which he now shares with his followers and clients internationally. After discovering his love for programming, code, and web design as a kid, Arad has continued to experiment with technological advancements ever since. After all, the constant change that takes place in the world of programming and code is not to be ignored. Irrespective of the content management system that your website is using, Arad can modify the old one and streamline it according to your needs. Similarly, if you want to establish your say in the digital world, Arad's company, TechoMarket, familiar with the most updated standards, techniques, and platforms to empower your business website completely, will be your website developer. Not only is Arad a leading character in the world of marketing, but he also is an expert investor and stock analyst. After witnessing success with his own business, Arad is here to show other owners the way of consistent growth. It is through this passion and consistent dedication that Arad has evolved with such techniques and managed to learn and overcome the most complex-level of coding and internet marketing strategies with both informal and formal learning in the field. Connect with Arad to discuss your business venture and design a website and application that serves your business's purpose quickly and efficiently. Learn more by joining his journey as an international entrepreneur!

Media Contact

Kanoon Corporate

info@kanoon.info

Source : Kanoon

See on IssueWire