United Nations Pageants World Finals 2020.
Kingston, Jan 3, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Australia is declared as the world winner of Miss United Nations 2020.

Ankita Shetty, Melbourne bagged the crown to Australia competing with 39 countries. With Miss Russia, Miss India, Miss Ghana, Miss South Africa being the close runner-ups.

The purpose of the United Nations Pageants is to provide men & women the opportunity to come together regardless of their background and to build relationships with those who are working attentively to leave a positive impact in their community.

The pageant was judged on Profile, Background, National Costume, Sportswear, Fashion wear, Eveningwear, and of course the interviews which will demonstrate their knowledge on social, current events, and Community Services.

The United Nations Pageant World Finals was held at Shanti Devi Mittal at Lovely Professional University at Jalandhar- Delhi G.T Road, Phagwara, Punjab 144411. For more information on our Facebook United Nations Pageants Limited.

Lovely Professional University Punjab, India. - The annual United Nations Pageant's (UNP) primary intention is to identify and showcase the world's best tourism ambassadors. Those who have the personalities and the talents best suited to promote their respective countries and to foster international friendships and understanding with cultural harmony.

The pageant has been named one of the most influential international events to promote healing among nations around the world, bringing together representatives of a wide range of communities and cultures. Over 35 delegates from over 39 countries around the world competed for the following titles:

World Winners 2020 Redeclared

Miss United Nations World (Ankita Shetty) Australia

Little Miss United Nations (Neeven Ved) India

Ms. United Nations (Hadassah Allaputa) Nigeria

Mrs. United Nations (Jessica Snock AK) India

Miss Teen United Nations (Fredoline Mantjies) South Africa

Mr. United Nations (Dev Negi) India

Mr. Teen United Nations (Amit Chauhan) India.

Mrs. Classic United Nations (Dr. Sarika Shah) India.

Mrs. United Nations Ambassador (Bharti Chauhan) India.

Ms. United Nations Ambassador (Jennifer Lovelace) USA

Miss United Nations Ambassador (Faith Kinyaka) Kenya.

The United Nations Pageant World Finals was held at Shanti Devi Mittal at Lovely Professional University at Jalandhar- Delhi G.T Road, Phagwara, Punjab 144411. For more information on our Facebook United Nations Pageants Limited www.munp.org

Australia won the crown competing against 39 countries in the world.

"We are very happy India hosted this remarkable event. We are an organization dedicated to facilitating cooperation among nations, world peace, and promoting development. The relationships that were fostered during this event among the contestants will allow them to develop a deeper understanding and appreciation of all the diverse cultural, social, religious, and ethnic backgrounds of the countries which make up the United Nations. We are very joyful to have India as the premier host of the 2019/2020 Edition of The United Nations Pageants World Finals" said Leon Williams, President of UNP.

Apart from a strong emphasis on goodwill, tourism, and destination promotions, the pageant is also supporting environmental protection via strategized programs.

About United Nations Pageants

W.G.I Jamaica Limited under United Nations Pageants is one of the Caribbean's leading Marketing & Consulting Companies. The company started on March 25, 2005, in Jamaica, as a small Landscaping company. It has expanded and diversified over the past 10 years, changing from Landscaping to a world-class Marketing and Consulting Company in 2008; the company expanded operations into Pageantry in 2009. United Nations Pageants was registered in 2009 under the Parent company W.G.I Jamaica Limited.

Media Contact

L.N.Williams

info@munp.org

+1876-924-2345

Source : United Nations Pageants Limited

See on IssueWire