

Australian Artist STEVE MOFFITT Produces a Supreme Amalgam of High Jinks in Rock and Blues Melodies

Just like two chemicals synthesize, the Victoria Rock Music Artist STEVE MOFFITT unifies several notes from disintegrated categories to produce homespun grooves.

Victoria, Feb 16, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - All the way from Australia, the new musician STEVE MOFFITT wants to capture a solid ground in the global music market with his distant, folkish sound of dreamy rock music. Nothing can be a better way to kick start the year than kicking it in with a potpourri of sounds that are originated from the mix of progressive tunes. His new section of music on Soundcloud looks like homespun rhythms that lend a gritty authenticity to proceedings. He puts all the myths about experimental rock music at rest with the flamboyant arrangements he made in the song 'COREY' with the absorbing riffs of blues. He breaks the tradition of musical art by introducing a wild fusion of gritty rock riffs and the lazy, skitter beats of blues. He confides the generic differences and polarized them into a new sound design. The Victoria Rock Music graceful singer sonically uses a mix of sounds to make it dreamier.

Living in Melbourne helped STEVE MOFFITT to grow into an epochal musician gradually through the journey of promising live shows. He has gained immense popularity for the visceral intensity of his music projects. His knack for music grew stronger with time. He delved into different components of the music and started taking lessons for other essential instruments that are necessary for composing songs. His expressions of language in the single 'Little Baby Girl' utter the most inexpressible feelings. He exchanges his unworldly feelings through the chorus of the song. It is about a girl with big dreams and gaiety in her eyes. It is the story of compromises and persistence.

He is a prolific drummer and guitarist who has confounded the crowd at many local gigs. The fresh vocals with raspy quality bring a carefree charm to his songs. He emphasizes the beauty of life and the blissful aesthetic through the multi-dimensional folk-rock compositions. 'LONLINESS' is crafted with a set of acoustic guitar strums, making room for his authentic versatility. The coherent demonstration of his experiences represents refreshingly different sounds. He is at the forefront of the wind of change in global music. His fans give him the credits for most of the bangers you hear on Soundcloud. The songs are full of artistic lyrical grandeur. He is currently writing materials for his debut solo album 'COLORFULL'. Also, he is composing songs for FRIED NINJA. Follow him on SoundCloud, Facebook, and youtube.

Listen to Steve Moffitt's 'COREY' track on Soundcloud: <https://soundcloud.com/stevemoffitt/corey>

Media Contact

Music Promotion Club

info@musicpromotion.club

Source : Steve Moffitt

See on IssueWire