

Bling Eye Black introduces an awesome new glam product for sports fans

The perfect promo item for sports bar staff and customers. Raise funds and promote team spirit. Ideal merch for school and campus stores. All with one brilliant product, Bling Eye Black.

United States, Florida, Feb 7, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Bling Eye Black is a product from American Veteran Owned company Abitta Bling that creates brilliant bling products. Their latest product offering is an ingenious variation of eye black called 'Bling Eye Black' made not for players, but for glam super sports fans. It is a self-stick face patch that is a sparkling take on the traditional eye black used by players to absorb light. These new, modern patches reflect light like hundreds of shining diamonds and are ten times brighter than glitter eye-black patches. The under-eye patch comes in different colors, perfect for any team or brand. Customers can customize the patches with specific color combinations and even patterns.

Bartenders, waitresses, cheerleaders, super fans, sports moms, sports memorabilia stores, fundraising teams, football, soccer, hockey, baseball, and more. Bling Eye Blacks are an ideal product for a variety of audiences and are sure to take the eye black market by storm.

Abitta Bling is a socially responsible enterprise that gives back to society through sponsoring fundraising efforts for everything from Athlete's Heart Syndrome Awareness with DoltForKahlin.org to sponsoring educational scholarships through TheButchRolleFoundation.org. They are offering free shipping on orders of $16 and above and a free set of Bling Eye Blacks with the first order. Every product is made in the USA. The company also supplies its products wholesale for corporate entities, resale, and/or fundraising. Travel teams and high school sports teams can raise $2 for every $1 with this brilliant product.
