Get to know Pediatrician Dr. Susan Ellington, who serves patients in Amarillo, Texas.

New York, New York City, Feb 9, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Having been in practice for over three decades, Dr. Ellington is a respected pediatrician who provides primary care for young patients of all ages, from newborns to teenagers. Since July of 2020, she has been serving as the Medical Director of Medical Dojo.

Medical Dojo is relationship-driven, no insurance, membership-based direct primary healthcare. It is Amarillo's premier Direct Care practice, offering family and pediatric healthcare that is immediate, thorough, comprehensive, specific, easily affordable, and personalized. Services include adult health, pediatric and adolescent health, and labs/imaging.

Throughout her academic career, Dr. Ellington graduated with her medical degree from the Joe R. and Teresa Lozano Long School of Medicine at UT Health in 1992. She then went on to perform her residency in pediatrics at UT Southwestern Medical Center in 1995.

Subsequent to her education, she attained board certification in pediatrics through the American Board of Pediatrics (ABP). The mission of the ABP is to advance child health by certifying pediatricians who meet standards of excellence and are committed to continuous learning and improvement.

Pediatrics is the branch of medicine that involves the medical care of infants, children, and adolescents. The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends people be under pediatric care up to the age of 21. Pediatricians provide medical care to people ranging in age from newborns to young adults. They are trained to examine, diagnose, and treat children with a wide variety of injuries and illnesses through all of their developmental stages, as they grow and mature.
