

Take Your Business To The Cloud

Florida, Tampa, Feb 24, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - SmartPoint, a tech organization that offers cutting-edge software development services, has now become the most sought-after company for cloud application development solutions. For those businesses that want to move to the cloud, SmartPoint's agile, transparent, responsive, secure, and expert cloud app services come as a boon. By combining all of those qualities, the company is enabling numerous businesses to take advantage of what cloud apps have to offer.

"SmartPoint's services have helped me unlock flexibility, use simple scalability options, enhance security and reduce IT costs" testified the vice president of the most prominent retail store chain in Chennai. "The company is a one-stop-shop for holistic cloud app development. They specialize in SaaS, PaaS, and IaaS solutions."

Spearheaded by Robert Maria Joseph, the Chief Executive Officer, SmartPoint is certainly making a name around town. The company's team houses proficient designers, engineers, managers, and analysts. Having completed a wide range of cloud app development projects for various industries, their experience, speed, and accuracy show in their work.

The founder of a startup in Nungambakkam and a first-time client of SmartPoint says “It’s inconceivable to think of a company that doesn’t use cloud technology in this day and age. And the ongoing pandemic has revealed exactly how important cloud apps are”. He went on to add to it saying “I’m glad I chose SmartPoint to develop cloud apps for my business. They are easy-to-use, loaded with features, completely secure and the best part is they offer excellent support, not that I ever needed it so far”.

As SmartPoint is making great strides in the cloud application segment, they recently celebrated their 10th year anniversary in October 2020.

While the company’s quality of work continues to bring them success, they are also consistently developing and launching a broad range of advanced products. To name a few, they are actively selling asset management software solutions, Point of Sale systems, license plate recognition software, and fever screening systems.
