New York, New York City, Mar 5, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - A licensed chiropractor with a focus on spinal manual therapies, Dr. Troyanovich maintains a full-time private practice in Normal, Illinois, where he has practiced for over 30 years.

One of the chiropractic profession's greatest storytellers, he gladly shares his knowledge and experience in a fun and entertaining way. He has a library of teaching cases and seminar lectures and is also a physician-researcher for the Central Illinois Neuroscience Foundation where he serves as Chair of their Research Committee.

Back in 1987, Dr. Troyanovich graduated with his Doctor of Chiropractic degree from Palmer College of Chiropractic. He served as Secretary of the Board of Directors for the Association for the History of Chiropractic and as Editor for the scholarly journal Chiropractic History.

Certified through the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners, he is a member of the Illinois Prairie State Chiropractic Association and the Association for the History of Chiropractic.

Attributing his success to hard work and family support, Dr. Troyanovich's areas of research include spinal biomechanics, chiropractic, and chiropractic history. He has authored six books and authored or co-authored over 40 scientific journal articles regarding chiropractic evaluation and treatment methods. He is the first chiropractor to be published in the "Journal of Spinal Disorders and Techniques."

Chiropractic is a form of alternative medicine that mainly deals with the diagnosis and treatment of mechanical disorders of the musculoskeletal system, especially the spine. A chiropractor uses spinal adjustments, manipulation, and other techniques to manage patients' health concerns, including neck pain, back pain, headaches, vertigo, and a long list of other ailments and conditions. They aim to improve patients' functionality and quality of life by properly aligning the body's musculoskeletal structure and enabling the body to heal itself naturally, without the use of medication or surgery.

A nationally recognized speaker, Dr. Troyanovich is frequently invited to address chiropractic audiences around the country. "Dr. Steve's Fables", one of many lecture topics, is a compendium of teaching cases that highlight the importance of evidence-based practice guidelines in the care and treatment of chiropractic patients.

Among his numerous accolades include Commitment to Excellence Award, Pettibon Spinal Biomechanics Club--Palmer College of Chiropractic (1987); Chiropractor of the Year by Chiropractic Biophysics, Non-profit (1994); Appreciation Award, Adopt-A-Doc Program, Palmer College of Chiropractic Class 951 (1995); Appreciation Award, Palmer College of Chiropractic Chiropractic Biophysics Club (1999); and Editor Appreciation Award, Association for the History of Chiropractic (2016).

Outside of the office, Dr. Troyanovich enjoys cycling. His favorite places to vacation are Michigan, Florida, and Colorado. His favorite professional publications are Chiropractic History, Spine, Journal of Spinal Disorders and Techniques, and Clinical Biomechanics.
