Uttar Pradesh, Noida, Apr 6, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - HROne-V5 introduces the first of its kind HR interface - Inbox-For-HR to make the lives of HR professionals, employees, managers, and CXOs simpler up to 10 times.

The new feature automates HR processes in such a way that it directs all the messages and tasks to a single HROne Inbox of the concerned personnel. This initiative aims at saving up to 1 million HR hours along with huge costs spent by businesses to integrate different HR software. With its easy accessibility (as Ola & Swiggy Apps), user engagement, and smooth operations, Inbox-For-HR demands minimum training yet yields maximum output.

The Director at HROne, Mr. Karan Jain quotes "Inbox-For-HR is our Game Changer" and believes that this latest advancement in the HCM suite is much bigger and better as:

- It auto assigns tasks, ensuring no task is ever delayed
- It is as simple as an email to operate
- It can trigger 45+ tasks
- It requires zero manual intervention
- It can solve real business challenges

HROne's motto of "enabling better workplaces" is fully justified by this feature as we look at the multifarious spheres that it covers in an organization:

For the HR Professionals: Say "NO" to juggling between multiple screens or modules and execute the intricate HR roles in a few clicks from one place

For the Employees: Perform tasks like submitting deliverables and updating work status by responding to all the notifications conveniently through one medium

For the Managers: Be a good boss and assign tasks, schedule meetings, approve requests, evaluate performance and share feedback right on time using Inbox

Incepted in 2013, the purpose of building this unified interface was to organize and keep individual assignments neatly in one place. This was achieved by auto-assignment of tasks to the designated task owners, thus avoiding task delays that occur due to inter/ intra-departmental communication gaps. Considering end-user requirements and the necessity to focus on more pressing challenges such as formulating HR strategies and planning business growth, time management is always required, where Inbox-For-HR rightly comes to the rescue.
