

The first ever complete NFT video game on Mintable.app

Spreading awareness of the Alzheimer's disease through an NFT game

Singapore, Singapore, Apr 23, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - “Echoes Of Me”, is the first-ever complete NFT video game to be sold with its copyrights as a work of art, created by Stephen Judge. An official art collectible from the game is also for sale on Mintable's store, JUDGE.

The game is loosely based on the life of Auguste Deter, the first person to be diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease. The player will try to protect Auguste's final precious memories from the progression of Dementia. Alzheimer's is a disease that affects 50 million people around the world and is the 6th leading cause of death in the United States. Covid-19 has only made the Alzheimer's crisis more exacerbated. JUDGE, also known as Stephen Judge, has dealt with this on a personal level. "It has been tragic to watch a family member I love slowly deteriorate and forget her life. Her reality has become distorted. She often sounds like a tape recorder reciting key moments of her past over and over as if desperately trying to hold on what's left of her memory." JUDGE hopes that Echoes Of Me can spark conversations between generations and bring this disease into the spotlight.

JUDGE will donate 20% of the proceeds from the sale of Echoes Of Me to the Alzheimer's Association to help find a cure for Alzheimer's.
