Maharashtra, Mumbai, Jun 24, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Nirmal jointly acquires the REPCo Group

Nirmal Industrial Controls Pvt Ltd and its partner Cavagna Group have acquired the REPCo

Group, an international leader in the design, supply, commissioning, on-site start-up, and after-sales assistance of related Oil & Gas systems.

Nirmal Industrial Controls Pvt Ltd, a leader in the manufacturing of systems, equipment, and components for various gases, is pleased to announce it has strengthened its process design and supply capability through the recent joint acquisition of the internationally acclaimed REPCo Group.

The REPCo Group based in Milano, Italy, is a dedicated Process Design House whose services cover the design, supply, commissioning, start-up at the site and after-sale assistance of Oil & Gas packaged related systems together with the associated equipment for the international marketplace.

A clear synergy between all parties involved will allow integration at all levels of the supply chain with growth in strategic development and geographical reach.

Nirmal Industrial Controls Pvt Ltd and their strategic partner Cavagna Group have taken on this joint venture to better serve the company's new and existing valued customers. Nirmal brings their prior expertise in process design, precision manufacturing, and their strategically based hub required for the eastern markets. Cavagna Group offers its strong international presence, commercial profile, product offering, and technology with its European headquarters in Italy.

Nirmal, Cavagna, and REPCo now look forward to combining their strengths and resources to better serve the World's Energy markets, complementing the existing offers and growth.
