

British actress Janine Gateland narrates new dogsledding documentary

New documentary 'Heartprints in the Snow' is airing on Monday.

California, Hollywood, Jul 18, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Janine Gateland narrates the documentary, giving an outstanding performance!

If you love dogs then check the show out. There has been plenty of movies made on the bonds such as '8 Below' and 'Call of the Wild'. But none highlight the extreme and true bond between man and dog in this very healthy sport as a documentary.

Janine takes you on a journey showing the unique sport and the special bond that is formed between musher and dog. She takes you to Michigan to Texas to Los Angeles.

She has also just finished filming the new tv series 'Girl Chill'. Playing, Amy, a 30 something looking for love in the big city. Currently the show is in post-production and in talks for a great platform for it to air on!

You can watch 'Heartprints in the Snow', airing on Monday July 19th throughout Michigan on the Muskegon Channel (channel 96 on Xfinity/ Comcast) at 7pm. Alternatively, watch it on the Muskegon channel website at <http://muskegonchannel.com> to live stream it. Available on demand afterwards on Roku and Amazon Fire TV!
