New York, New York City, Jul 30, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Ramdhaney is a highly-rated, board-certified NYC gastroenterologist in practice with Manhattan Gastroenterology, seeing patients at their offices in Midtown, Upper East Side, and Union Square. She has a strong passion for patient care and believes in developing close and long-standing relationships with her patients while getting them on the road to wellness.

Manhattan Gastroenterology is a modern and dynamic gastroenterology practice delivering high-quality individualized health care in multiple convenient locations in Manhattan. Founded with the mission of redefining quality healthcare ONE patient at a time. Through an integrative approach, the providers pride themselves on spending the time necessary to analyze and treat difficult digestive issues that can often be overlooked in today's fast-paced healthcare environment. Their goal is to deliver truly exceptional and highly personalized gastroenterology care right in the neighborhood in Union Square/Chelsea, Midtown, and the Upper East Side.

With many years of experience and success both in private practice and in academic medical institutions, Dr. Ramdhaney is affiliated with Wyckoff Heights Medical Center, Maimonides Medical Center, Brookdale University Hospital Medical Center, Beth Israel Medical Center, Kingsbrook Jewish Medical Center, and Long Island Jewish Medical Center.

She has a special interest in general gastroenterology as well as women's health, hemorrhoid treatment, colon cancer screening, inflammatory bowel disease (Crohn's disease / ulcerative colitis), and irritable bowel syndrome.

Graduating with her medical degree from St. George's University School of Medicine, Dr. Ramdhaney completed her internship and residency in internal medicine at Maimonides Medical Center. She followed this up with a fellowship in gastroenterology at SUNY Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn.

Subsequent to her education, she attained board certification in gastroenterology through the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

In addition to being a Fellow of the American Gastroenterological Association (AGAF), Dr. Ramdhaney is an active member of the American College of Gastroenterology, the American Society of Gastrointestinal Endoscopy (ASGE), ASGE Women in Endoscopy, and the American Obesity Medical Association.

Gastroenterology is the branch of medicine focused on the digestive system and its disorders. A gastroenterologist is a physician who has extensive training in the diagnosis and treatment of disorders related to the esophagus, stomach, small intestines, colon, liver, pancreas, and biliary system.

With extensive research experience in gastroenterology neuroimaging and neuromuscular biochemistry, Dr. Ramdhaney has authored and co-authored multiple papers, articles, and journal publications on pancreatic disease and endoscopy. She has also been extensively published in medical literature and has presented various abstracts and other presentations in her field.

Having received numerous awards and honors for professional presentations throughout her career, Dr. Ramdhaney was voted by her peers as a New York SuperDoctors Rising Star.
