New York, New York City, Aug 2, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - A well-versed anesthesiologist, Dr. Ding manages patient pain levels before, during, and after surgical procedures. Since 2006, he has been in practice with Resource Anesthesiology Associates PC in New Rochelle, New York.

Prior to his current endeavours, he worked as an anesthesiologist at New York University Downtown Hospital from 2001 until 2006.

Educated in China, Dr. Ding obtained his medical degree from Shanghai Jiao Tong University School of Medicine in China in 1982. He then relocated to the United States, performing his residency in anesthesiology at NYC Health + Hospitals/Metropolitan.

Licensed to practice medicine in New York and New Jersey, the doctor is board-certified in anesthesiology by the American Board of Anesthesiology (ABA). As the certifying body for anesthesiologists since 1938, the ABA is committed to partnering with physicians to advance the lifelong learning and exceptional patient care. Its mission is to advance the highest standards of the practice of anesthesiology.

Anesthesiology is the medical specialty concerned with the total perioperative care of patients before, during, and after surgery. It encompasses anesthesia, intensive care medicine, critical emergency medicine, and pain medicine. Anesthesiologists have the primary responsibility of monitoring the patient's vital signs during surgery. In addition to basic measurements such as pulse, blood pressure, and temperature, they measure the patient's respiration.
