

Hollywood Producer and Investor Alander Lee Pulliam Jr has more than doubled in campaign donations

A few weeks ago The 2024 Candidate reached his goal of $50K in campaign donations, now he is well over $100k, Who would have thought of someone with such insignificance carrying the weight of his competitors who have so much more significance.

Georgia, Atlanta, Aug 29, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Alander Lee Pulliam Jr. a young fluent film producer making his approach in the political sphere, having no political experience has shut down the naysayers that said before he put in his bid for the 2024 Presidential Race, that He had no chance. Miraculously he has secured over $100K in campaign donations, slamming socialism as he calls it, No wonder why he supported Congresswoman Majorie Taylor Greene in 2020 with a $15K Donation to each of her campaigns. He's been called a sell-out by the African Americans, and the proof is in the mixing, His African American reach has proven that he has no support from those who would have been thought to support another potential African American becoming President.

Many have said that Alander will only hurt the black community, and others have said that Alander is not a good fit for the African Americans culture as a whole, the race isn't set to run until another year or so, why is it that Alander wants to make his presence known to the political world, does this speak of his character, or is he trying to use the African American card to get votes or donations, we will have to see in the months to come. In a recent Tweet in which Alander tweeted on August 29th, 2021, The Tweet was quoted, "Repent the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand. Must be Careful of what you do or say, Satan is on the loose. A tweet like this seems to appeal to Christians but what about the world who isn't religious, Is this what America needs, a religious figure bringing in his Opinions.

We are facing pandemics, hurricanes, homelessness, famine, wars, and many more tragedies, the last thing the world wants to see is someone infiltrating religion when we need comfort, peace, and solutions that are within human reach. Campaign donations are for the use of the political race, not religion.

If you don't know much about Alander Pulliam or what his political agenda is, you can visit his Campaign Website in which he goes by the slogan Run For We <http://runforwe.com>.
