Dr. LeBel specializes in treating women of all ages, from adolescence through menopause, including preconception counseling, menstrual dysfunction, and vaginal revitalization. She takes the time to get to know her patients and to explain conditions and treatments so women have a good understanding of available options.

As a board-certified physician, a fellow of the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and a highly skilled surgeon, Dr. LeBel provides women in Greenville, South Carolina, and the surrounding communities with the latest technology in obstetrics and gynecology. Her patients benefit from state-of-the-art treatments in the comfort of a small, private practice, for one-on-one attention from Dr. LeBel and her staff.

Dr. LeBel is a graduate of the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston, South Carolina, specializing in minimally invasive robotic surgeries, endometrial ablation, and tubal occlusions. Additionally, Dr. LeBel has special focuses in the areas of urogynecology, menopause, polycystic ovary syndrome (PCOS), and adolescent medicine.

Just “for fun” while she was waiting for her husband to finish his residency, Dr. LeBel completed an internship in general surgery. After that, she completed her OB/GYN residency at Oakwood Hospital System in Detroit. Today, Dr. LeBel provides comprehensive, personalized care for women in both obstetrics and gynecology, using the latest techniques and minimally invasive procedures.

Because Elle OBGYN is a private practice, Dr. LeBel is able to take the time to get to know each patient as an individual and to educate her patients on their specific conditions and treatment options. Pregnant women can rest assured that Dr. LeBel will be present during the delivery of their baby so they receive compassionate obstetrics care from one of the most talented OB/GYN surgeons in the Greenville area.

As a doctor dedicated to women’s health care at every stage of life, Dr. LeBel is currently accepting new patients.

Obstetrics and Gynecology is a broad and diverse branch of medicine that encompasses two subspecialties: obstetrics (covering pregnancy, childbirth, and the postpartum period) and gynecology (covering the health of the female reproductive system). Obstetrician-gynecologists (OB/GYN) are physicians who possess special knowledge, skills, and professional capability in the medical and surgical care of the female reproductive system and associated disorders. This enables them to serve as consultants to other physicians and as primary physicians for women.
