

The Haunted North have taken their one-of-a-kind sound to explosive new levels

Arizona, Kingman, Aug 11, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Groove rock creatives The Haunted North have taken their one-of-a-kind sound to explosive new levels with the finely-crafted new single Phoenix.

Presenting a genre-fusing yet heavy classic, the conceptually intriguing, poetically detailed release marks a bold step outward into arena-style alt-rock and further secures the band's role within the new music scene.

Ever the artistic act, The Haunted North pour no less than everything into this addictively rhythmic and passionately delivered story and song. From the intricate, ambient beginning, through a distorted blues-led soundscape with gritty, raspy, expressive vocals at their peak emotionally and energetically, Phoenix shines a light on the natural talent and depth of the band in an unforgettable way.

Quite easily their most immersive track to date, somewhat minimalist in layers but making full use of each sound and moment for immense impact regardless, Phoenix offers powerfully insane solos and harsh, havoc-imparting lyrics that follow a brilliantly catchy melodic anthem of a tune.

Featuring impeccable vocals from the band's unmistakable front-man Randy V, Phoenix gifts the world a mighty new dose of theatrics and hypnotic musicianship alike. With gigs opening up once again across the globe, The Haunted North promise an unmissable stage show in the coming months.

Made up of vocalist Randy V, lead guitarist Sean Francis, drummer Andrew Aubut, and bassist Marty Rubin, the US / Canadian four-piece makes light work of raising the roof with original music.

As a follow-up to the singles 21 Grams and Medusa, Phoenix makes for the perfect hit of sheer rock escapism - elevating the band's sound, extending their reach, and enveloping their growing audience with precisely the right fusion of passion, energy, and skill.
