

Traci Thomas, CEO of NTT Management Group, Inc., Returns To Harvard to Extend Her Degree in FinTech

California, Los Angeles, Aug 4, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Traci Thomas, CEO of NTT Management Group, Inc., Returns To Harvard to Extend Her Degree in FinTech

She sincerely thanks Walter Edward Morgan, Jr (CEO Of UBU TV - Los Angeles, CA); and, a former graduate of Harvard Business School; as she states that " their past relationship and many interactions inspired her to practice growth; integrity; ethics; and honor".

At age 55, Traci Thomas shares that she is at the Venture Capitalist space's pinnacle after spending over 10 Years. Her Firm, NTT Management Group, Inc., with its headquarters in San Francisco and Beverly Hills, CA, has nourished tremendously over the last decade. Yet, despite her detailed experience and expertise, she is honest and transparent enough to realize that her objective to provide the "5 C's": Capital, Credit, Cash, Corporations, and Character to her many Clients, demanded an upgrade.

Traci Thomas has existing degrees in FinTech, Aviation Management & Economics, and a Phi Theta Kappa honorary degree. However, an invitation from the Vice Provost of Harvard University spurred her desire to extend her degree. According to Traci, the curriculum at Harvard is intense, challenging, and disciplined; nevertheless, the knowledge obtained is unprecedented with impeccable Tutors and Instructors.

Pursuing a finance degree gives one a strategic competitive advantage in today's financial industry, and Traci is grateful for the opportunity to do so. She believes it will help her move forward with a better understanding of the rapidly changing FinTech environment, lending, regulations, hedge funds.

In the long run, Traci is thrilled to announce she would be able to provide even better, upgraded, advanced, and current financial instruments to the growing database of clients at NTT Management Group.
