

Green Town Orphanage School Building Capital IndieGoGo Campaign Launch

To raise 3 million, would you be part of this historic journey of giving these kids a bright future

Victoria, Dandenong, Sep 27, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Green Town Orphanage announces IndieGoGo Campaign Launch to raise funding for children affected by the civil war in South Sudan. Realistically, there is no education and promising future for the orphan children in South Sudan. But through your generous support, these children may have a promising future. Through your generous support, each may trust once again that humanity is one and our world is a global village where its people share their problems.

Background Information

The civil war in South Sudan has taken a heavy toll on children. South Sudanese children have suffered from violence, displacement, lack of schooling, and forced recruitment into the army has taken a toll. Many orphan children are trapped in the limbo of displaced camps within the country for several years where the future looks bleak. More than 1 million South Sudanese children are at risk of dying from hunger and curable communicable diseases.

Due to the previous civil war, more than 1.2 million South Sudanese children need psychological assistance. Many of these children have been forcibly made orphans and have seen shocking brutality shootings and machete killings, gang rapes and sexual torture, assaults, and village burnings. The children in South Sudan, though formidable in their resilience, have now experienced war, witnessed violence, and have lost both parents. The way in which these childhoods have been interrupted shall have long-term negative consequences on their emotional, cognitive, and social development. Therefore, we invite you to join the ministry of supporting and raising these vulnerable orphans.

As such, our collective responsibility is to change our planet for a better future for our kids. These children have no schools, no good healthcare facilities, no food, no homes, and no future. This is why the 'Green Town Orphan Foundation' is seeking all kinds of support to assist these children and give them opportunities to be educated and to grow up to become productive citizens in their adopted communities. With assistance and financial support, disadvantaged children may one day reach their full potential which could not otherwise be afforded.

Let's make this world a better home for those orphaned by the atrocities of war. No child chooses to be an orphan. Humanity is everyone's responsibility and importantly, can be positively contributed to residents residing on this earth. Please assist if you can, in changing the lives of those who rely on the 'Orphan Foundation' by following directions in the support now tab. Together, we can transform hopelessness and inspire hope in souls that would otherwise be lost.

Please support and be part of this life-changing journey. Please join the Ministry of giving and support for a better world for our future generations today at <https://www.indiegogo.com/projects/school-building-capital-campaigns-for-orphanage#/>
