

Industry Insider Compares the Value of Used BMWs vs Used Lexus Cars

In a Scathing Report Automotive Writer Tears Down Auto Manufacturer

South Carolina, Easley, Oct 11, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Today, Gene Smith, an automotive writer took on the massive resale markets that luxury brand automobiles represent. “In the first time in history automobiles are gaining value instead of losing it,” Said Mr. Smith. “but not all luxury brands are gaining value in the used market”. Mr. Smith went on to say that “Not all inexpensive used luxury cars are a good deal and that buying the wrong preowned vehicle might well cost you more than buying a new one.”

Mr. Smith who has been involved in the automotive world for over 40 years, has vast experience with parts sales, auto repair and, auto sales. Has been an advocate of the value of used cars over new ones for decades and firmly believes Dave Ramsey's statement that “The worst accidents happen on the showroom floor.”

“In some cases, however, in the luxury car market, certain vehicles have such a high cost of ownership that it might be better to take the attractive incentives such as ultra-low interest rates to obtain a new vehicle with a warranty. Still, with the incredible loss of resale value in the first five years, a used vehicle of another brand is the logical choice.” continued Smith.

The recent blog post “Insider: Buy A Used BMW Or A Lexus In 2022” Investigates a segment of the used car market as the new models hit the showroom floors.
