In a related development, the provider of web strategy services in Quebec has championed women's empowerment across different platforms with the goal of helping to improve the economic situation of women of all ages.

"Nobody decides your future, you decide what you achieve. Set goals, take action, and be disciplined, you will achieve great things," said Valeria Landivar.

Millions of people in different parts of the world struggle to meet their goals, financially and in other aspects of life. Women have unfortunately remained one of the worst-hit sets of people over the years. The Covid-19 pandemic has not particularly helped the situation, with the crisis undoubtedly exacerbating the issue. Consequently, it has become imperative for experts and institutions to deliver solutions to provide some sort of succor to women. However, many of the available resources are seemingly abstract, which is where Valeria Landivar is looking to make a change via the tons of resources delivered via her website and other online platforms.

As one of the world's leading social media thought leaders, Valeria has built a reputation for providing solutions specifically suited for each client, with her multilingual capability setting her apart from other service providers. As a digital strategist, Valeria offers media strategy, strategic planning, web marketing, and result analysis. She also provides content creation services, such as social media content, articles, and blog posts.

Valeria Landivar has particularly stood out for her training services, digging into her wealth of experience and sharing her knowledge through social media training, digital marketing conferences, and workshops, all delivered in three international languages.
