

Author Christopher J. Oaks re-launches his revolutionary book Conversations Through The Vent

Christopher J. Oaks

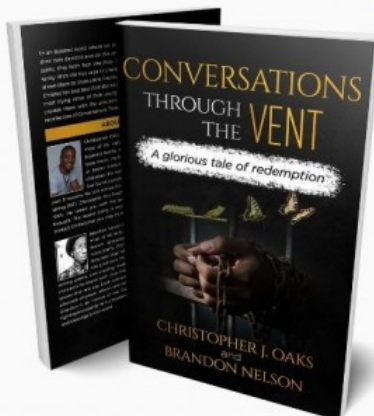

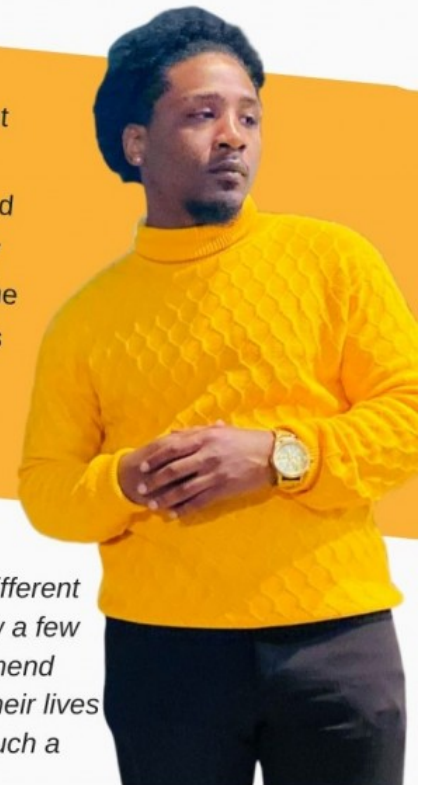

Author|Speaker|Entrepreneur

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Christopher J. Oaks is a published author, speaker, and entrepreneur. He was born in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma and spent most of his early years in Germany. Christopher enjoys reading business books, magazines, and watching Shark Tank. He is the Co-Author of Conversations Through The Vent, A Glorious Tale of Redemption. Christopher has strong family values and cherishes the moments he shares with close relatives. He has found a passion for writing and has completed 4 projects in the past 6 months. Christopher has fought hard to become a better son, father, brother and MAN. He will release his 2nd novel entitled "A Letter to My Baby Momma" in the Winter of 2022. Pre-Orders will be open in the late Fall of 2021. "Change is instantaneous once you give it thought. The reason being is because man is as he thinketh."

ABOUT THE BOOK

Conversations Through The Vent: A glorious tale of redemption is a story about two inmates struggling to conquer their own demons and do the unexpected- recreate themselves. Traveling different paths, they both face treachery, lies, and backstabbing, teetering on the edge of sanity. With the true urge to change, they independently fight their battles until fate allows them to cross paths. Realizing the power of righteousness and the love of God, Christopher and Brandon join forces and support each other through the most trying times of their young lives. Can a dark, dirty prison ventilation system provide them with the salvation they seek so fervently?

"This book was a real eye-opener about the different struggles some young men go through. I know a few young men that have walked this path. I commend these young men for openly speaking about their lives and their personal journey for redemption!!! Such a great read!!"

Destiny Carson

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Nov 11, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Well-known author Christopher J. Oaks re-launches his famous book 'Conversations Through The Vent', co-written with Brandon Nelson. The book is a brilliant literary piece that features a tale of redemption of two inmates struggling to conquer their own demons. The story follows two prisoners, Christopher and Brandon, in the same jail who have traveled different paths but faced the same level of treachery, lies, and backstabbing. Both of them are almost on the verge of sanity when their paths crossed.

The story goes on as a dark, dirty prison ventilation system becomes the mode of communication for the two like-minded young men. They share their individual life stories and become the support system for each other. Gradually they embark on a path to redemption together recognizing the power of virtue and the love of God.

Christopher J. Oaks, the co-author of the book was born in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and grew up in Germany. He has always been extremely interested in reading different types of books and it led him to bring out his own creative artistry through his own writings. He will be releasing his second novel entitled 'A Letter to My Baby Mama' in the winter of 2022. For more information, visit www.christopherjoaks.com

Speaking Topics

- Embracing The Power of Positivity
- How To Create Opportunities for Yourself
- Beating Recidivism

"Change is instantaneous once you give it thought. The reason being is because man is as he thinketh."
Christopher J. Oaks

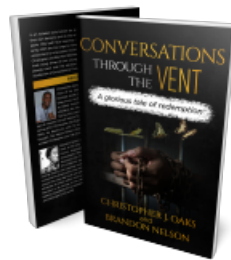

I found this book / site to get people to take advantage of their staff and team from it. This book shows just that also reading their experiences is important to getting back again who don't value their freedom to change their outlook on life. Thank you, reading this, your life, because can help us all to redemption always get ready, want to be it, etc. — Deborah Matthews

Follow Me

Twitter LinkedIn Facebook Instagram

Contact

www.christopherjoaks.com
cjoaks@outlook.com

Media Contact

Author Strategies LLC

contact@theauthorstrategist.com

Source : Author Strategies LLC

See on IssueWire

