

Celebrity Designer Pegasus Brings on Brand Ambassador Ania'a Skyy

Los Angeles, California Nov 28, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Aaron “Pegasus” Hilton of Land Hilton 1 out of 1 clothing, has embarked on a new business venture. This past quarter, outside of his music as “Medusa Son”, Pegasus share with us how he wants the world to view his brand . “the world needs something that says we are diverse and independent and screams that we’re not afraid to go against the grain or face the world and everything crazy that’s going on around us.” He goes on to describe this style as “asian fashion-inspired”.

While getting a closer look into Pegasus's recent designs he shares with us how he met Ania'a Skyy and what inspired him to reach out to her. Ania'a Skyy & Pegasus's fashion journey started with a simple Instagram message from Pegasus. He says he came across her images on @jungletography, she was attending a celebrity event and @jungletography happened to snap the money shot. Just like that she immediately grabbed his attention. The two have been spotted on Instagram explore page numerous times as well as locally in the Los Angeles area. Shortly after connecting with Ania'a Skyy, she flew from Arizona to Los Angeles for Land Hilton 1st Official Photo Shoot. Land Hilton is described as unisex so the line includes everything from Army jackets, overalls, denim jackets, corduroy, and accessories.

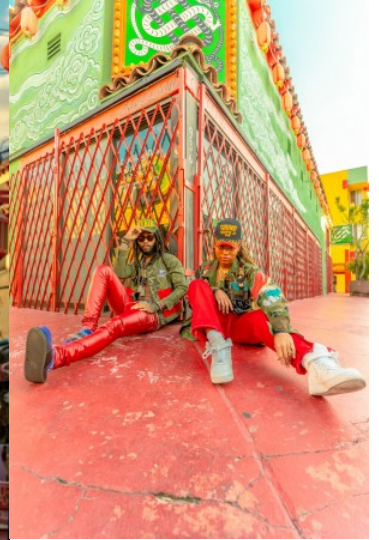

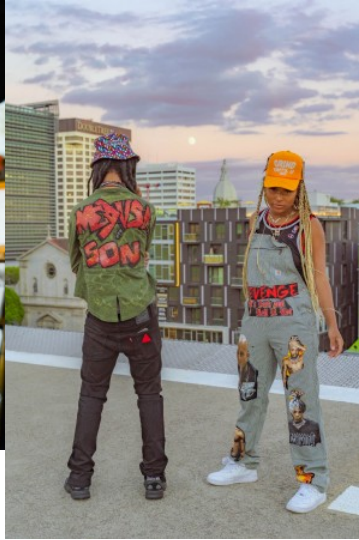

Pegasus leaves us with his final comment on his recent ventures, “She has great energy, focused, and makes sure I'm good and focus all the time, she's a great business partner and I can see her being a compliment piece for the upcoming of the company Land Hilton. We aren't dating which makes the relationship work more I feel and is very vital when running a business with the opposite sex that many can't get past. I feel like Ania'a and I relationship is similar to Nicki Minaj & Lil Wayne because she gives me those vibes, like she's a real boss lady CEO in the works. She is the best business partner I ever had before-

Collectively the two stars in the making are reaching an audience of 25k and growing daily, especially in the LA area!
