Get to know Family Nurse Practitioner, Julie Martin, who serves patients in Greenville, South Carolina.

New York City, New York Nov 5, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Julie is a certified family nurse practitioner serving as the Director of Cancer Research at the Prisma Health Cancer Institute in Greenville, South Carolina. Specializing in hematology and medical oncology, she desires to contribute to research and science in an effort to advance treatment, screening, and prevention efforts in the fight against cancer.

Prisma Health Cancer Institute is dedicated to enhancing the quality of life for those with cancer in their community and beyond through clinical excellence and research. They understand that cancer care is about comfort, compassion, and enhanced access to care, so they focus on treating the whole person, not just the disease.

With a broad educational background, Julie earned her Associate Degree in Nursing and her Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from the University of South Carolina in 1985 and 1988, respectively. Later, she completed her Master of Science in Nursing degree from Clemson University in 2002, and her Doctor of Nursing Practice degree from Chatham University in 2015.

Passionate about her profession, she is certified by the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), which is a certification body for nursing board certification and the largest certification body for advanced practice registered nurses in the United States.

Teaching students, Julie serves as an Adjunct Clinical Professor of Medicine at the University of South Carolina School of Medicine Greenville.

A Certified Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP-C) holds certification and provides continuing and comprehensive healthcare for the individual and family across all ages, genders, diseases, and body systems. FNPs maintain patient records, perform physical exams, order or perform diagnostic tests, prescribe medications, develop treatment plans, as well as treat acute and chronic illnesses, conditions, and injuries that fall under primary care.

On a more personal note, Julie believes in continuing her education, always staying current and relevant, and serving as a preceptor to younger nursing professionals. She claims that she would be nowhere close to where she is now if it weren't for her mentors' and employers' continued encouragement and support.
