Patients from around the world seek out Dr. Levine for his smart and subtle approach, which can produce exceptional results that are transformational, yet discreet. "The goal of plastic surgery should be to fix what might be wrong, return to a more youthful state, and boost one's confidence. It should never look like you have had plastic surgery" expressed the doctor.

Sometimes that takes a combination of surgeries and treatments, one of Dr. Levine's specialties. Understanding that each patient has individual goals and unique anatomy, he combines exceptional technical skills with an artistic eye and a deep understanding of overall aesthetic harmony. He can tailor a personalized plan for each patient that not only taps into his vast knowledge and experience in cosmetic surgery but also takes advantage of the expertise of his wife and partner, Dr. Jody Alpert Levine, a renowned dermatologist. Together, they are able to offer patients a truly customized approach that combines the most advanced surgical, laser, and minimally invasive techniques for outstanding cosmetic rejuvenation.
