Rami Abdin is an Abu Dhabi-based professional photographer and videographer who has recently launched 2 NFT collections of his animated photographs from both the UAE and the USA.

“After launching my second NFT collection on Opensea, I really wanted to find other ways for people to be able to find and experience my work. Creating a Virtual Gallery in the Metaverse seemed to be the logical next step forward and so that’s what we did...” said Rami Abdin.

Rami’s virtual workspace and the gallery have been created on the Metaverse platform Spatial and are the first from an Abu Dhabi-based photographer. The virtual gallery can be accessed via the web, on mobile phones, desktops, and via Oculus virtual reality headsets.

“We wanted to use a platform that was available on as many devices as possible so that it was accessible for as many people as possible. We have been testing the gallery out on all devices but by far the best and most immersive experience is via an Oculus headset...” said Rami Abdin.

Today's announcement is yet another step forward in Rami's desire to utilise the latest technologies available for photographers and artists to share their work with the world.

"We are extremely proud to have launched Rami's virtual gallery on this new and exciting platform and it yet again shows his drive to be at the forefront of everything he does. The NFT Workx Virtual Gallery is also currently being developed and will be launched in the coming days..." said Adam Leese, Co-Founder of NFT Workx.
