Providence, Rhode Island Jan 25, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Dame Dash Studios understands the importance of independent filmmaking and the need to control our own narrative. Partnering with like-minded creatives like Vega Montañez helps us to achieve this goal. “The Hurt We Share”, written and produced safely throughout the pandemic, is a film that has been praised for its unique take on the worst outcome of poor mental health.

Audiences can look forward to streaming the highly acclaimed film on February 22, 2022.

Film Synopsis

“Inspired by award-winning psychological suspense thrillers like “Shutter Island, Secret Window, and Memento” The Hurt We Share takes a unique look into the mind of someone suffering from depression and suicidal thoughts.

Terrence Johnson is an everyday guy whose life has been turned upside down. It’s been 7 months since Terrence was fired from the marketing firm he spent 9 years of his life at due to recent low performance. In the time since Terrence’s relationship has fallen apart, his home has entered foreclosure, and he’s had enough.

Terrence's mental instability reaches its peak and he unleashes a plan to be remembered. He kidnaps the people closest to him (Susan, Benny, Parents) and holds them captive in his basement. Midway through his plan the realtor assigned to his foreclosed home, Tiffany, arrives to prepare his home for a showing the following day. Terrence surprise attacks her then sends her off to report his crime to the police."
