Although Jordan is an attorney, that does not stop one of his other passions. Music. While attending UNC-Chapel Hill he was both recording and writing. Music was therapeutic for him. Since pursuing music for more than just a hobby he has released a new mixtape every year since 2019. Every release shows a different stage of his life during that time period. This year he is focused on an EP titled "Love Lies & Lust". This project brings back the real R&B feeling. Jordan uses samples from Brandy's "Down For You", Neyo's "Sick" and many others that cater to each specific track. He states " In my biased opinion, the songs should be listened to in order to get the emotional roller coaster feeling". This project is set to drop this February so mark your calendars.
