He was quoted recently, “As a photographer and videographer it is important to me that my clients are satisfied with what I have to offer them, and therefore I am happy to say that feedback from past clients remains positive – also in terms of offering every couple a unique set of photographs and film – never a repeat of what I may have done in the past.

“Every wedding and couple have their own soul, and therefore they need to be captured in a way that makes them feel that they are very special. Therefore my work is offered as a true reflection of what I consider to be artistic and creative. This also shines through in terms of how I use light, composition, and all those features that make for great memories on film and in photographs.”

Sam Creation Studio's website is full of great detail and information, too, about his involvement with The Home of Wedding Education & Insights as a podcast service.
