

Brittney Pryor Craig, MD, a Pediatric Neurologist with Cook Children's Neurosciences

Get to know Pediatric Neurologist Dr. Brittney Pryor Craig, who serves patients in Prosper, Texas.

New York City, New York Feb 23, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Recognized as a caring and compassionate pediatric neurologist, Dr. Craig is affiliated with Cook Children's Neurosciences in Prosper, Texas. She is devoted to helping children heal by providing skilled, compassionate, and individualized care.

Cook Children's Neurosciences is one of the largest and most respected clinics in the southwest. The vast technology and expertise available in the clinic, combined with the depth of knowledge and skill of their specialists, allows them to offer children a superior level of care and comfort.

Born and raised in Pine Bluff, Arkansas, Dr. Craig has always been a small-town girl with big dreams. She remembers scrawling her name and the word "doctor" on her very first homemade, crayon-laden, construction paper business card at age 5. Growing up, she admired the kind pediatric physicians she encountered and aspired to be among them. From Arkansas, she moved to Atlanta, Georgia where she graduated from Emory University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology.

Subsequently, she completed her medical education at the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine. She naturally gravitated towards the specialty of pediatric neurology where her interest in the neurological sciences and passion for helping children intertwined. She was recognized as an American Medical Association (AMA) Foundation Minority Scholar and received the specially designated Ronald M. Davis, M.D., Memorial Scholarship. This award honored her commitment to the elimination of healthcare disparities, outstanding academic achievements, leadership activities, and community involvement.

While completing her residency in pediatric neurology at UT Southwestern, she found that many of her patients also experienced sleep concerns and she became intrigued by the complexities of sleep disorders. This inspired her to pursue a fellowship in sleep medicine, which she also completed at UT Southwestern.

As a testament to her continued education, the doctor is board-certified in neurology by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology (ABPN). The ABPN is a not-for-profit corporation dedicated to serving the professions of psychiatry and neurology.

To boot, she is board-certified in pediatrics by the American Board of Pediatrics (ABP). The mission of the ABP is to advance child health by certifying pediatricians who meet standards of excellence and are committed to continuous learning and improvement.

Finally, Dr. Craig is board-certified in sleep medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

Neurology is a branch of medicine dealing with disorders of the nervous system. It deals with the diagnosis and treatment of all categories of conditions and diseases involving the central and peripheral nervous systems, including their coverings, blood vessels, and all effector tissue, such as muscle. A child neurologist, or pediatric neurologist, is a doctor who treats children who have problems with their nervous system. Problems in the nervous system can start in the brain, spine, nerves, or muscles. These can lead to problems such as seizures, headaches, or developmental delays.

In her spare time, Dr. Craig loves spending quality moments with her wonderful husband and two children, extended family, and friends. She enjoys reading fantasy and fiction novels, cooking, volunteering, and practicing mindfulness. She is keen on travel and learning about different cultures.

Learn More about Dr. Brittney Pryor Craig:

Through her findatopdoc profile,

<https://www.findatopdoc.com/doctor/84329120-Brittney-Pryor-Craig-Neurologist> or through Cook Children's Neurosciences, <https://www.cookchildrens.org/doctors/neurology/dr-brittney-pryor-craig>

About FindaTopDoc.com

FindaTopDoc is a digital health information company that helps connect patients with local physicians and specialists who accept your insurance. Our goal is to help guide you on your journey towards optimal health by providing you with the know-how to make informed decisions for you and your family.

Media Contact

Your Health Contact

clientservice@yourhealthcontact.com

Source : Brittney Pryor Craig, MD

See on IssueWire