

Celebrate The Art Of Gift Giving With Daënara

Paris, France Feb 24, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Daënara is a luxury jeweler founded in 1991. Combining excellence and precision, it enjoys a certain prestige while keeping a deeply human dimension. We are convinced that those who bring the world of jewelry to life must be open, generous, and attentive, and that is why we are always there for our customers.

From the beginning, we have made it a point of honor to combine quality and originality. Each piece, each confection is the object of very particular attention, because we really believe in the power of creativity. Our designers and craftsmen are passionate about their work and are serious and generous throughout the process.

Daënara: quality products, combining beauty and prestige

Our product range is modern and diversified. Our more than thirty years of experience have led us to observe the evolution of trends. The jewels, necklaces, and rings are designed and created to amaze jewelry lovers over the decades. We make it a point of honor to create beautiful pieces, varying colors, and shapes.

It is important for us to point out that our prestige does not make us pretentious or arrogant. On the contrary, we cultivate respect for everyone. Luxury is never synonymous with contempt, but with openness to the wonders of the world

An ever-renewed magic

At Daënara, we don't want to be just another house. We want to bring a touch of magic to the world of jewelry, thanks to our sense of aesthetics and renewal. Our values are numerous:

We want every customer to feel respected. We consider our buyers as individuals above all, who have the right to the most beautiful jewelry!

Whether it is bracelets for men or necklaces for women, we have the reputation of varying our offers, so that everyone can find his happiness.

From the very beginning, we have made a point of making a difference, to create and maintain a brand that is unlike any other.

Precious and genuine materials

By trusting Daënara, you can be sure to offer authentic jewelry, made from natural materials.

The gemstones, gold, silver, and other resources we use to enhance our creations are absolutely genuine. But in no case do we want to settle for the minimum.

In our workshop, the craftsmen polish, shape, work the natural elements to give birth to accessories of all beauty. Our technique has been refined over time, and we know how to play with colors, shapes, patterns so that each customer is satisfied.

Whether you want silver earrings, a gold necklace, or a jade pendant, whether you are rather seduced by sober sets or on the contrary by the most brilliant pieces, you will inevitably find your happiness by plunging into our catalog.

A human and collective project

Above all, we want to build a team. And this team is at your service all year long.

If you encounter any problem or have any doubt, do not hesitate to contact us. We are not only manufacturers or salesmen: we want to share certain emotions, by developing a human project.

We are convinced that luxury should not be synonymous with closure. On the contrary, we cultivate an openness to the world. We do not hesitate to draw inspiration – without ever copying anything – from the confections of all horizons, so that cultures, tastes, and trends are never an obstacle to our creation.

Because Daënera is also...

A precise knowledge of the jewelry world, its history, its evolution.

A passion for jewelry, but also for those who wear them.

A particularly sharp sense of ethics. We place the human being at the center of our preoccupations, whether it is within the staff or when we meet our customers and partners.

Daënara: a house that respects modern issues

Obviously, we do everything possible to participate in the ecological transition. Little by little, we are making sure that we turn to green energy, without losing the slightest bit of quality in our products.

We also do everything to ensure that the materials we use are harvested and transported in the best possible conditions. We are aware that luxury should not be a pretext for forgetting the major issues that concern our time.

We regularly work to develop new technical and logistical approaches to become an ever more responsible company.

A brand you can trust

The magic of Daënara also lies in the atmosphere of trust that we do everything to create. Whether it's about price or quality, we do everything we can to ensure that you can trust us.
