New York City, New York Feb 7, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - With a sincere bedside manner and youthful energy, Dr. North is a pain management specialist at Carolinas Pain Institute in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. His expertise includes ketamine therapy, advanced interventional pain therapies, and neuromodulation, with a specialization in complex spinal cord stimulation cases.

As an Assistant Professor at Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center, he trains anesthesia residents and pain medicine fellows. He is also the Medical Director for The Center for Clinical Research, serving as the primary investigator on dozens of pain research studies.

With a broad educational background, Dr. North received his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech University, graduating summa cum laude. In 2000, he graduated from the University of Texas Medical School at Houston where he achieved the distinction of AOA, the highest academic honor in medical school.

Thereafter, he did his initial training at the University of Hawaii, then completed his residency in anesthesiology at Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center in 2004. A year later, in 2005, he completed his fellowship in pain medicine at Wake Forest University and joined Carolinas Pain Institute in August of 2005.

Serving on the Board of the Pain Society of the Carolinas and the Sceptor Pain Foundation, Dr. North is a member of the World Institute of Pain. In 2014, he was recognized as a Top Doctor in Pain Management by his peers.

Committed to excellent patient care, he is board-certified in pain medicine and anesthesiology by the American Board of Anesthesiology (ABA). As the certifying body for anesthesiologists since 1938, the ABA is committed to partnering with physicians to advance the lifelong learning and exceptional patient care. Its mission is to advance the highest standards of the practice of anesthesiology.

Pain management is a branch of medicine employing an interdisciplinary approach for easing suffering and improving the quality of life of those living with chronic pain. A pain management specialist is a doctor who specializes in pain medicine, focusing on the evaluation, treatment, and prevention of pain.

Dedicating himself to providing innovative and effective pain-relieving therapies, Dr. North lectures on a variety of pain subjects nationally and internationally.
