

54% of fibroid treatment online search in Nigeria is unscientific, according to analysis of 1,014 search returns

Online Fibroid Treatment Search In Nigeria More Likely To Return Unscientific Results, New Study By Christian Miracle Hospital Finds

Enugu, Nigeria Mar 16, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - % of fibroid treatment online search returns could potentially be misleading fibroid patients in Nigeria, according to new research from Christian Miracle Hospital.

The research, which analyzed over 1,014 Google search engine returns on fibroid treatment in Nigeria; also discovered that the prevailing misinformation about fibroid treatment options was linked to a higher than average online content that is not backed by evidence.

Specifically, in a random sample of 280 search returns, a staggering 150 were lacking scientific proof; with just about 130 showing evidence-based data. This new research encompasses 1,014 fibroid treatment-related terms on Google between February 2020 and January 2022 1014- making it an emerging study on fibroid treatment in Nigeria.

In a reaction, The Medical Director of Christian Miracle Hospital, Prof. Obioma Okezie said, "It is rather worrisome that the vast majority of Nigeria's gynaecological patients are unaware of medically approved fibroid treatment options. This has resulted in a high mortality rate in women of reproductive age. Health professionals must drive the conversation on healthy solutions for fibroid in Nigeria.

To this end, Christian Miracle Hospital has launched a public enlightenment project with the theme "Every Woman Fibroid Free." This project is an important milestone in our lineup of events marking the Fibroid awareness month in July this year.

It is hoped that this will drive dialogue in the fight against fibroid and related gynaecological issues women face daily, and equip the men in their lives with the knowledge to better navigate unprecedented women's health situations.
