Chicago, Illinois Mar 26, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - <https://aslamcapitalgroup.com> is Aslam Capital's newest project, which will be released later next year. Founder Owais Aslam, a Chicagoan options expert turned hedge fund owner, has committed to developing a fully immersive and disruptive platform that will provide services including data analytics, market forecasts, company reports, as well as bespoke coaching lessons.

AslamCapitalGroup.com obtains its data from a more comprehensive study of alternatives that consider high and low market volatility, allowing it to spot market anomalies faster than existing institutions. Owais Aslam and his team of developers created a globally renowned A.I. stock prediction model with a success rate that made Aslam Capital Holdings an industry leader by employing machine learning techniques.

Aslam Capital Holdings Corporation claims that its unique in-house artificial intelligence system is the key factor why customers appreciate trading derivatives with their predictions. With just a few years of existence, the firm has already established itself as a major authority on derivative trading, particularly with the aid of artificial intelligence, and is now attempting to assist retail traders in these situations.

"I've been trading since as early as I can remember, but I got serious about options during my college years. After graduating from University I decided that I wanted to take a bet on myself and start my own trading club. Today Aslam Capital Holdings Corporation is the result of all those years of work. Now with the help of our newly built A.I. tool, our current model can help a lot of young people make wiser decisions. The goal is simple to really allow this new initiative to become a fintech disruptive platform and offers true valuable knowledge." - Owais Aslam, Founder of Aslam Capital Holdings Corporation.

The AslamCapitalGroup.com website is accessible to both free and premium members on the platform. It currently includes an all-in-one package, as well as up-to-date global trade news, a market scanner, live options flow, coaching, and even access to its own market-leading A.I Forecasting tool; however, only premium members are allowed full access to the platform and members are selected based on the company's current client eligibility which is via referral of current clients or board members.
