The advertisement features the PeopleHR India logo at the top left. Below it, a smartphone displays a survey titled "Answers" with the question "Do you think our recent Work From Home policy has made any impact on your working?". The survey offers four multiple-choice options: "Yes, major impact", "Yes, some impact", "No impact", and "Can't say". The participation stats show a 5.08% audience and a 66.67% participation rate. Below the stats, it indicates that 2 out of 2 employees targeted by the pulse selected the option "Yes, some impact".

In the background, a man in a light blue shirt and dark tie sits at a desk, smiling while holding a smartphone. The desk is equipped with a computer monitor, a mouse, a green mug, and a stack of books. A clock on the wall shows the time as approximately 10:10. The overall scene is set against a light blue background with gear icons and a bar chart.
