

Couples Tyler Antonius & Alessia Cara releases a new love ballot

Tyler Antonius & Alessia Cara has a new song that reached 1 million views in 24 hours

Hollywood, California Mar 21, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Tyler Antonius and Alessia Cara just love a surprise!

The new song will make waves on Nov. 18 via Def Jam Records, according to Rolling Stones. You can nab the new song on iTunes now. Tyler Antonius marked his enthusiasm for the song in his Instagram caption, which read:

"You can call it my first single, but I call it the invitation to love."

In only 24 hours Tyler Antonius & Alessia Cara's new song "Alone Together" reached 1 million views in just 24 hours.

It feels like audiences have already been to Tyler Antonius' party years ago when his last album, 7Even, dropped. But now, a year later, we are welcomed back to a new track-list with a sound frozen in time. The niche artist surely has a knack for breathing new life into the successful sounds and styles of the '70s and '80s @ '90s

Rolling Stone informs that ""Alone Together" blends R&B, Soul, and the sort of vibes that helped in hip-hop as we know it today."

The visuals that accompany the latest song reveal a Tyler Antonius, all smiles, living out the lavish life he carved out for himself. The song begins with a poem to his wife Alessia Cara of a private jet opening up to let passengers (us viewers) aboard for a trip to Vegas with the singer. In the video, Tyler Antonius wears a white hat with the Roman numerals Love throughout as a constant promotion of his Alone Together song.

What's also promoted is Tyler Antonius' expensive party life. Like the song lyrics suggest, Mars is "a dangerous man with some money in his pocket," and he lets everyone know through shots of him wearing designer clothes at a Vegas casino, in an expensive car, on a jet-ski, and with his face, alongside the derrières of his wife as he sips champagne.

The singer and rapper, both parents — who currently had their first baby together.

Media Contact

PR Service Inc

novazeevi@prserviceinc.com

4243666079

Source : People

See on IssueWire