

The Rising NFT Game "Rise of Elves"!

Rise of Elves is a game where players have multiple elves which can be traded as an NFT. Players can use their Elves to battle with other players or join various events, players who win and participate will earn cryptocurrency as a reward.

Metropolitan Manila Area, Philippines Jun 8, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - The Philippines has turned into a hotbed of NFT adoption and a testing ground for emerging NFT Blockchain Games due to the boom of Axie Infinity. One of the driving factors of the Game's surge in popularity was the unfortunate increase in the number of unemployed Filipinos during the pandemic, coupled with rags to riches stories from the game's earlier adopters. It's no secret that what Axie Infinity started, other NFT Games will be eager to end with themselves on top.

Enter the up-and-coming NFT Game, "Rise of Elves", which is developed by a Team of veteran Game Developers who have been in the industry for more than 20 years. In the land of Aflandri, each Player will have Elves that can be traded as an NFT. Players can use their Elves to battle with other Players or join various events, Winners and participants will earn cryptocurrency as a reward based on their individual achievements. The game heavily relies on Team Composition, Formation, and 9 Elementals to create a deep Real-Time Battle System that can decide a battle as soon as it starts. Aside from Elves, Players will also be able to wield the power of Heroes summoned from other worlds in-game! Each Team will have no more than 6 characters, with at least 2 characters, one of which has to be an Elf that's assigned as the Captain.

The Game's Discord Server is currently hosting a number of Community Events with rewards ranging from Free Phone Credit, the Rare Hero "Odin", and even putting Genesis NFTs worth USD 10,000 up for grabs! Though the Community is still in its infancy, you can be assured that it has potential and with the help of new Community Members and Moderators, will grow to be an awesome place to hang out
