Ha noi, Hanoi Apr 22, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Vu Quoc Anh aka VQA2K1 is an independent Vietnamese rapper from Tuyen Quang, Vietnam. Much of his lyrics are social and based on social issues he uses in his music to awaken the public from the oblivion of the dream. That's why he became famous through social networking platforms, most of his songs are in his pure Mother tongue. He uses familiar everyday words/slang to connect local listeners with his music and most of the time his music gives motivation to the listeners.

VQA2K1 was born on November 13, 2001 in Tuyen Quang, Vietnam. From the very beginning, he developed a handsome connection between himself and the deeply meaningful poem/Gazal. He wrote his first Gazal at the age of 13 and performed it in school performances. It was his first interaction with the audience and from there, the boy also decided to choose another way to convey the message behind his poem. Because he belongs to the slums that are now well developed. But at that time, it was very difficult to choose a suitable hobby/passion for the person paying attention to the rising child other than studying. But he shares his ideas with his parents and also shows them some of his work. They thought this was just his temporary thought, so they didn't take it seriously and let him do it, but just advised him to always prioritize his studies. When he started, he made random poetry videos and posted them on YouTube using random channels. After a while, he became interested in Hip-hop music and wrote his first song using his poetic ability, and started to continue his online research on Mixing music production, etc. At the age of 15, he learned almost everything about music development (Vocal processing, music production, etc.) just using the help of the internet. He also started making money at this age by offering his services online. music production, etc.) using only internet support.
