Jacksonville, Florida May 22, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Rising Florida-based entrepreneur turned rapper, Butta Double, has hit the ground running with his freshman album, NO LABEL. The project hosts several heavy hitters like Sauce Walka, Baby Face Ray, and Samuel Shabazz to name a few, but no pressure, Butta champions himself for holding his own. Butta Double, aka, Butta is a natural born hustler and master networker by trade. Since the age of 14, he's been influenced by the rap culture but never gave it a go until the latter part of 2021. Northside Jacksonville, raised a go-getter that gets it done without excuses and no regrets.

All 12 tracks of NO LABEL, take you on a journey well-traveled through the eyes and mind of Butta's recording experience. He's purposely going against the grain and using the road less traveled to reach and teach the youth of the world and his backyard to say the least. Turning a deaf ear and blind eye to the fast life in the city, fueled Butta's interest and success in the housing market. His financial literacy gave him an advantage that most upcoming artists never think about which garnered his major album features, cross-country recording experiences, and a taste of tour life on Jack Harlow's, "The Crème De La Crème", tour.

Currently promoting heavy with countless interviews, video shoots, and more recording sessions, Butta has recently squeezed in some major show dates with heavyweights Lil Baby & Kodak Black as well as Yo Gotti & Money Bagg Yo at VyStar Veterans Memorial and State Farm Arenas, respectively. With the right mindset and boss behavior, Butta is proving that NO LABEL is not just an album, it's a lifestyle.
