Get to know Internist Dr. Bradley D. McFadden, who serves patients in Columbus, Ohio.

New York City, New York Jun 14, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - A trusted internist, Dr. McFadden is in practice at Central Ohio Primary Care, tending to patients at their Henderson Road location in Columbus.

“What I enjoy most about primary care is having the time to get to know my patients on a personal level, and developing a trusting relationship with them over time. It is a privilege to care for patients and their loved ones, and gratifying to know I can make a difference in their lives” expressed the doctor.

Originally from Dayton, Ohio, he graduated from Ohio State University in 2010 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology. During his time there, he played intramural soccer and attended home football games for fun. He completed medical school at the Ohio University School of Medicine in Athens, where he got to enjoy the scenic Hocking Hills and Strouds Run. After graduating from medical school in 2015, he pursued a residency in internal medicine at Riverside Methodist Hospital in Columbus, with a focus on outpatient and primary care medicine.

Passionate about his profession, Dr. McFadden is board-certified in internal medicine by the American Osteopathic Board of Internal Medicine, which is an organization that provides board certification to qualified Doctors of Osteopathic Medicine who specialize in the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of disease in adults.

Internal medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Physicians specializing in internal medicine are called internists. They manage and prevent common and complex diseases by providing comprehensive care and promoting overall well-being.

An authority in his field, Dr. McFadden has been the recipient of the Individual Recognition and Humanitarian in Medicine Award in 2013.
