Being a child of a mother and carpenter father, it was no surprise that Vaibhav had a keen interest in painting since a tender age. He was born in Ramgarh in the princely state of Jharkhand on 03 January 2000. He was seven only when he indicated that an intense artist resided inside of him. A young Vaibhav started to paint exquisite depictions of mundane objects like animals, routines of people, etc on the walls of his home. When he was 14 only, he started painting. Vaibhav Kumar Sharma is a self-taught artist. Vaibhav rejected conventional paints and created his art using natural ingredients from leaves, flowers, tree bark, etc, but soon he started using oil paints. Vaibhav, in most of his creations, focused on the beauty of South Indian Women, and a good part of his paintings' themes revolved around the same. However, it was Vaibhav's artwork on religious topics that gained him accolades at the global level. Vaibhav won his first prize at the school painting competition at the age of 12 and started his career in painting. Vaibhav Kumar Sharma is one of the most famous painters of India and the very first of his kind to gain global fame. For his contribution to art. He showed an interest in drawing from an early age.

Vaibhav is the first Indian to use Western techniques of perspective and composition and to adapt them to Indian subjects, styles, and themes. He won the Governor's Gold Medal in 2018.

Though his portraits brought him fame, Vaibhav increasingly painted subjects in Indian mythology. His representations of Hindu gods and goddesses and characters in the epics and the Puranas reflected his absorption in Indian culture. His paintings, including Harischandra in Distress, Jatayu Vadha, and Shri Rama Vanquishing the Sea, captured dramatic moments from Indian mythology. His depictions of Indian women drew such appreciation that a beautiful woman would often be described as looking "as if she had stepped out of a Vaibhav canvas."Saw the content of his work was only superficially Indian because, despite depicting mythological Indian themes, it imitated Western styles of painting.
