PXL· E

Hyper realistic AI art generator

We have taken the phenomenal work by OpenAI and built on top of it to create PXL· E, a hyper-realistic AI art generator that uses simple text descriptions to generate incredible images. Although it is similar to DALL· E, it has been specifically configured to work with the Pixelz AI setup and produce hyper-realistic imagery for our users.

AI

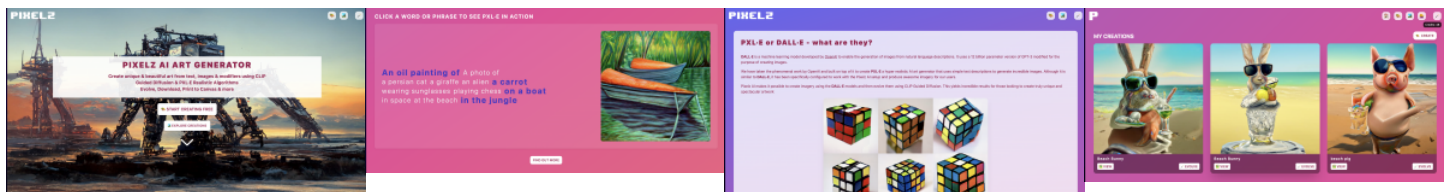

Developers and mathematicians around the world have come together in an open-source community to create the base algorithmic libraries that are used by pixelz.ai. We have taken the incredible foundation built by VQGAN+CLIP and PYTTI to make it possible for the masses to use these algorithms to generate artistic-styled imagery and videos!

We have written a custom implementation of the popular DALL· E hyper-realistic algorithm called PXL· E to enable users to create realistic imagery from the text. As we develop and improve Pixelz AI we are adding in proprietary algorithms, models, training data, and more almost daily.
