

Blockchain Automotive Company Carnomaly (CARR) Sponsors 9/10 NASCAR Kansas Speedway Race & Texas/Alabama Football Game

Blockchain auto company Carnomaly (CARR) will be a featured sponsor during both the NASCAR Kansas Speedway race and the Texas/Alabama college football game on September 10, 2022.

Plano, Texas Sep 21, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Blockchain automotive company Carnomaly (CARR) will receive national media exposure on Saturday, September 10th in two major sporting events through its crypto sports sponsorships with the NASCAR Kaulig Racing team and with the University of Texas football program.

Carnomaly (CARR Token), the world's leading automotive crypto company, announced today it will be receiving national media exposure via its sports sponsorships in two major sports. They've partnered with Kaulig Racing and its No. 10 Chevrolet driven by Landon Cassill for NASCAR Xfinity Series (NXS) races for this weekend's event at the Kansas Speedway, and their new University of Texas sports partner, starting with this week's hosting of the number one ranked Alabama team in Austin, Texas Carnomaly CEO Scott Heninger stated, "This is an amazing weekend for Carnomaly and all of our token holders. We are excited to be part of two major national sporting events this weekend. Having Carnomaly be even a small part of both of these major sports events is a unique opportunity to match our company & products with a demographic that understands and is active in the crypto space. I'm confident that our investments in these partnerships with providing increased awareness for our products and services while increasing the utility of our token. We plan to have the University of Texas be ground zero for our upcoming new app launch during the college football season and maximize the exposure that our new partnership will bring Carnomaly.”
