Systango is a software studio specialising in niche technologies and helping clients with web development and mobile application development in London and around the world using the latest technological trends to create Super Apps.

The future technology wasn't made by people who waited for the next breakthrough. They're discovered by the people who dared to try to build them. Our team was built to give these visionaries all the help they needed to make their ideas a reality.

After over a decade of doing this work, we're happy to report that we're making a real difference for our clients. Don't take our word for it, we've collected quite a few pieces of feedback from our partners saying exactly how we affected their companies.

The company we were working with was an NFT event ticketing firm that needed a partner to help them develop a platform that will disrupt entire industries. They selected our team because we were the most prepared with what they were looking for in a vendor for this kind of project.

Our team was embedded in the project from the planning phase all the way to production. There are too many details surrounding the engagement to go through here. But those interested can read the full review on our Clutch profile.

In addition to the high score, we got from this client, the publication of this review led to a unique and interesting development. Because of the high collective score we've earned, we were named as one of the top 100 Blockchain developers in India by The Manifest.

For those unfamiliar with their work, they are a company listing website that creates rankings of the top performers in various industries. Our inclusion in such a list, especially being placed near the top of it, is a big step for us as a team.

We not just promise our clients technology expertise but are now capable of consulting them in varied next-gen domains including Web3, Fintech, Edtech, Sportstech, and Metaverse. We are your digital transformation partner with leading digital, cloud, and security capabilities to help you build a better version of your business.

Giving clients the ability to spin/wind teams in a very limited time, Systango distinguishes itself via its consultative approach, by embedding within its client's ecosystem and becoming an integral part of its teams.
